

Holi Essay in 150 Words

Holi, also known as the Festival of Colors, is a vibrant Hindu festival celebrated in India and worldwide. In 2025, Holi will be celebrated on March 13 (Holika Dahan) and March 14 (Rangwali Holi). It marks the victory of good over evil, symbolized by the story of Prahlad and Holika.

@stationvidya

People light bonfires on Holika Dahan to burn away negativity. The next day, they play with colors, sing, dance, and enjoy festive sweets like gujiya and thandai. Holi also fosters unity, as people forget past differences and celebrate together.

Holi is more than just a festival; it's a symbol of joy, love, and renewal. It strengthens social bonds and brings communities together. The festival's vibrant colors signify happiness and positivity, making Holi one of the most eagerly awaited celebrations in India.